Mobile Forms Automation Software Category

Mobile forms automation software allows users to create, edit, and share documents remotely. The versatility of the software enables documents to be shared online or offline. Essentially, mobile forms automation software digitizes data capture and transfer. In addition to increasing the accuracy of transmitted information, mobile forms automation software reduces the time required to share the information, which increases efficiency.

Although most often used by field teams undertaking field activities such as surveys and inspections, the software can streamline workflows in all types of organizations. You can create various forms using the mobile forms automation software, including reports, surveys, client documents, and audits. Moreover, the software can be used as a stand-alone application or with other software, such as workflow management software, to provide better solutions.

"Alpha Software has allowed us to maintain a unique selling point in our industry. We work in a very niche market and there are not many companies that provide the kind of services we do. We were the first company that had a web portal to display audit findings. So, naturally, that's been able to help us by explaining to our clients that we've got a robust electronic reporting suite and a digital place that allows you to have full visibility on the quality of gas and electrical contractors. It also provides assurance to housing boards and tenants that they are properly taking care of maintenance."

LEE BRADSHAW
MANAGING DIRECTOR, MORGAN LAMBERT

"Alpha DevCon 2020 really helped me in my Alpha development. In working with Alpha Anywhere there are always many ways of accomplishing what you want. DevCon helped me hone in on some of the processes I do often and find new and better ways to accomplish them. It is also very valuable to see the Alpha Software roadmap and to learn about the new features that are coming down the pike. It's also a great opportunity to meet the key players at Alpha Software and also make a connection with fellow developers."
