

Case Study

AWC Frac Technology – AWC Frac Technology specializes in the design, manufacturing, and repair of high-quality API 6A frac valves. Company has been a trusted provider for over 18 years and is a well-established name when it comes to large-bore gate valves. AWC Frac Technology maximizes uptime and increase their client's productivity through quality frac stack manufacturing and comprehensive aftermarket asset management services.

Challenges

Multi-regional sales and product delivery operations. Move from legacy systems to one digital solution that would provide operational control and reporting over entire operational cycle, capture technical data, including digital reporting and quality control.

Solution

RigER Machine Shop software configured for office and shop floor users adjustable to AWC Frac Technology internal business processes.

Results

- One system to run operations from Technician to Operations Management
- Specialized Dashboards for Lean Operational Processes
- Customized Quality Control Management Module