Althea Medspa is a medical spa serving the Greater Washington, D.C. area.

The business was “born out of love” back in 2010, says owner Mira Indorf. Her mission was to exceed client expectations through results, quality, value, and personalized service. Mira and her staff provide the most technologically advanced medical treatments in the industry today, with locations in Fairfax and Alexandria, VA.

The name comes from “the radiant Althea flower, which has been known for centuries as a healing herb in many cultures.”

“We love giving people the services that will help them be all they can be. We love what we do, we love each other, and we love our clients. It’s who we are.”

The spa offers high-tech microdermabrasion, callus peels, and facial masks to refresh the skin.

Althea Medspa’s online presence was created by WooExperts Absolute Web. Visitors to the site can book and pay for skin treatments, laser hair removal, IPL photorejuvenation, and SculpSure sessions online.
