

Why choose Creately?

Fully in Control needed a flexible, deeply customizable solution to support its complex diagramming and database requirements. Creately was selected for its powerful API, robust white-labeling capabilities, and enterprise-grade support, ensuring a seamless integration experience and a tailored interface aligned with their platform.

What this means for users:

- A fully embedded diagramming experience within the Fully in Control platform.
- Custom workflows and UI that match exact operational needs.
- A long-term partnership with a solution that adapts to evolving enterprise requirements.

Fully in Control Integrates Creately for Embedded Diagramming & Customization

Fully in Control, a leading risk management system that works closely with government institutions in the Europe, has been with Creately for over 5 years, using the platform to power its diagramming and database modeling needs as part of its core platform.