Challenges

A huge challenge was to cut the training overhead due to face-to-face training. There is a constant need to train all team members in the same compulsory safety training. Another challenge was to train a wide range of ages and technical abilities to adopt to a digital transformation.

Solutions

Using the Enabley platform, the training costs are massively cut as there is no longer a need to bring everyone together for face-to-face training. Team members can use the App while traveling (sometimes 2-3 hours at a time). Users of diverse age ranges and members with varying technical abilities find the platform easy to use and intuitive.

Trainers find loading material into the platform effortless and methodical. The entire training process has become more streamlined, facilitating the onboarding of new clients.
