

Further intranet features for Cirencester auction house

Moore, Allen & Innocent are auctioneers and property specialists with sites throughout the Cotswolds. They wanted to provide a central resource for staff in different locations for better HR information and a sense of community.

Initially the intranet was focussed on holiday and sick leave, allowing staff to manage their leave while the HR department could easily review requests and view overall data. In common with many of our projects, the intranet has grown as Moore, Allen & Innocent have seen its benefits. This now includes a social media area for staff.
