Australian technology university finds perfect fit with When I Work.

NBCUniversal Technical Support team provides help for internal teams and vendors to provide the best solution for business needs.

"It's easy to use and an economical choice. It's scalable and easy to upgrade. Customer service is always fantastic!"

– Katie Bryant, Director, On Air Operations

Prior to When I Work employees couldn't access their schedules outside of work which cause miscommunications and missed shifts. Since switching to the app employees and managers are much happier. Employees can see their schedule from anywhere and managers love the easy communication through Team Messaging.
