As a citizen, you need efficient ways to find information about different procedures in all government institutions and Panama Tramita works as a knowledge center where you can find all this quickly and efficiently.

Challenges

Their previous platform presented various challenges for content managers and final users like Spanish only interface, complicated content management and non-responsive design. The Drupal UI had to be adjusted for content managers since they weren't expected to be tech-savvy users. We also tried to clean out their databases while migrating data to normalize their information and translating the interface. Thankfully we were able to solve this and hit some major pain points our client was experiencing.
