

Brand Communications, Media Relations, Thought Leadership

Peapod, America's first and leading online grocer, was gearing up for its 25th anniversary of pioneering e-commerce in the United States. In partnership with Crane Communications, we launched a local and national thought leadership campaign, positioning co-founders and brothers Thomas and Andrew Parkinson as experts in the e-commerce arena, offering seasoned insight on an evolving landscape. See our results: