Phlite enhances business with Simply Cloud servers

Websites and online application specialist Phlite became a Simply Cloud reseller three years ago, so that it could offer reliable and flexible hosting platforms to clients for the web systems that it develops.

Today, Phlite has numerous hosting servers (virtual and dedicated) setup with Simply Cloud. As a reseller for Simply Cloud, Phlite has the flexibility to setup and adjust its services as needed and create new platforms when required. It is able to offer a much better service to its clients because of the control it has as a reseller to efficiently set up and maintain the systems that it develops, leading to a much better service for its clients.
