

Web design customer: Pine Motors

Project Brief: This customer had registered their domain name and tried to build a website for himself using one of those do it yourself web builder accounts. He realised that the website didn't look at all professional, and asked us to build him a proper website to load all his cars on to. We built a website for him with a bespoke content management system, that allows him to take photos of his cars with a phone or tablet and upload them in seconds direct to his website from his phone.

Customers Video Review / Testimonial Transcript: "Im Steve from Pine Motors, car sales in Westcliff. We approached Joe from The Web Design Company, to make us a website. Something easy to use, something that we can use quick and easily, and something that is easy for customers to browse through with nice pictures. He showed us how to make that. What he done, is he showed us how to optimise it, we used Facebook, Twitter, he just sort of put it all together, and by the searching on Google , it then gives you our listing, on our website on Google on the first page. We didn't want to spend a lot of money on a website, but by doing some it has probably doubled our business in the first month of having our website with them. It has been great for us and I highly recommend them."
