

SILVERADO EXCAVATING - SPARKS, NV

Before becoming the owner and president of Silverado Excavating Company in Sparks, NV, Bob Fehling spent ten busy years working on dams, bridges, tunnels and interstates for one of the nation's top civil construction companies, and later further honed his skills as an engineer for one of Utah's most prominent general contracting firms. Wanting to be closer to his family, in 1998 he accepted a general manager's position with Silverado, and within three years he was able to purchase the company.

Since then, Silverado (a SharpeSoft client since 2001) has remained busy and productive, providing both residential and custom excavating and grading services throughout northern Nevada and beyond. In 2008, Fehling began offering Ram Jack foundation repair services and Silverado's sister company, VersaGrade, Inc. was born. For more than three decades, Fehling has managed both companies with an emphasis on skill, service, quality, and integrity – an ongoing legacy that SharpeSoft is proud to be part of.
