

A civil litigation firm uses Smokeball AI to eliminate time-wasting tasks and grow their case volume

Hours saved on repetitive tasks

100%

of staff's billable time captured

Fast & accurate billing

Rockwell & Kaufman is a civil litigation firm with extensive experience defending complex medical malpractice cases. The record-heavy practice thrives with Smokeball, which allows staff to organize and search tens of thousands of documents with ease. Additionally, staff use Smokeball's secure AI matter assistant, Archie, to dramatically reduce repetitive, time-draining tasks. Archie extracts key case information quickly, draft emails, and compare documents. The firm also uses automatic time tracking to ensure staff's activity is recorded for accurate, quick billing.

With Smokeball, Rockwell & Kaufman is productive, organized, and profitable. "Smokeball has greatly improved our efficiency," says managing partner Thomas Rockwell. "We're faster and more accurate, which allows us to handle more cases than before."
