Russell Duerksen Law Office is a family-owned law firm that has served the Chino Valley, Arizona community since 1993—and now has a second office in Prescott Valley.

After opening a second location, Russell Duerksen quickly saw the need for case management software. Communication between the two offices was suffering. The firm didn't have visibility into their cases, and manual processes like time tracking and document management bogged staff down. After much research and vetting, the firm chose Smokeball. "It's user-friendly, easy to navigate & search, and tracks all our work in one place. Smokeball was a winner for me right away," says paralegal Maria Shibalovich.
