

With Smokeball, a solo practitioner cuts legal software costs by 50% and automates her law firm

50% savings in software costs increased automation & efficiency

faster document creation

Savage Legal Group firm owner Kim Savage uses Smokeball to manage numerous matter types through a centralized, cloud-based platform that automates her daily work. Automatic time tracking captures her billable time, and Smokeball's library of 20,000+ automated templates allows for quick document creation.

This streamlined workflow saves her time, unlike her former practice management software. "Clio is manual and disjointed," says Kim. Plus, she had to purchase key functionality as product add-ons. In contrast, her Smokeball subscription is far more robust and costs half as much. Kim's advice to legal professionals evaluating new software: "Seriously investigate functionality claims. Feature comparison charts can be deceiving. I was shocked by how bare bones Clio was," she says.

A comprehensive platform that simplifies and automates legal work

- Seamless Microsoft Office integration for easy email management and document organization
- Forms & Templates Library of 20,000 automated legal forms for over 250 matter types
- Automatic time tracking that captures every billable minute for quick invoicing

To get feature parity with Smokeball required multiple Clio products that cost me twice as much as Smokeball—and didn't work as well.
