

Smokeball helps a real estate law firm increase their productivity

Exceptional training

Increased efficiency and productivity

All-in-one integrated system

The Tobin Firm handles real estate and business transactions across Texas. With Smokeball, they've increased their efficiency and organization, which has transformed their growing practice. All their case and client information is now accessible in one cloud-based platform, so paralegal Michelle Manis manages client files with ease. "Having everything in one system is flawless, fast, and amazing," she says.

Additionally, Smokeball's exceptional live support ensures the firm receives real-time assistance and continuous self-guided education. At any point, Michelle can schedule a live Q&A session to get the answers she needs. Not only does this deepen her Smokeball knowledge, but it supercharges her productivity.

All-in-one cloud-based software that boosts productivity

- Smokeball integrates client information, correspondence, and documents into a single platform that saves time and reduces errors
- Comprehensive billing and customizable reports make invoicing simple and provide clear insights into the firm's profitability.
- Exceptional training and client support ensures staff get the full benefits of Smokeball's deep functionality.
