

SockMonkey Studios

Branding, Website Development

"The gang at Thrive are an absolute pleasure to work with. They understood exactly what our company brand needed, and worked with us all the way through the branding process. The outcome is excellent and we all love it. Highly recommended!"

Bob Makin, SockMonkey Studios

Working with the amazing gang at SockMonkey Studios was a complete breath of fresh air. Having met through mutual connections years previous we worked with the team to build a brand that reflected their fun-loving, innovative ethos, without moving too far away from their original brand identity. Following a fantastic branding workshop and the creation of their new brand, we developed a website that could grow and expand as the company has.

Game for anything...

Since our brand development website project wrapped in 2018, SockMonkey Studios has gone from strength to strength and continues to innovate and revolutionise their industry. We're proud to have them as a friend for life and it's been fantastic to watch their company's growth and expansion continue, as they create a buzz in the North East tech sector.
