

ThoughtWire

Designing and Engineering cutting edge building management solutions

Located in Toronto and founded in 2009, ThoughtWire is a leader in orchestrating data from people, process, and the physical built environment. ThoughtWire delivers smarter, safer and more efficient hospitals, commercial buildings, and cities. Their innovative software applications put people first, whether for clinicians, patients, office workers, or first responders, ThoughtWire puts people in control.

As ThoughtWire rapidly grows, they've been faced with the need to scale quickly and for the ability to both increase and decrease velocity within the design and engineering organization. As a solution to this challenge, ThoughtWire has partnered with Transcenda, utilizing Transcenda's thought leadership and capabilities in mobile development and UX/UI Design. Through the partnership, Transcenda has become a trusted partner to ThoughtWire helping accelerate progress to their product roadmap.
