

Visit Panama mobile application

The Tourism Authority of Panama or ATP is the governmental institution in charge of managing everything related to tourism within the country, and promoting the typical tourist sites and activities of Panama. And as such, they have a great weight on their shoulders, when it comes to national tourism.

Keeping this in mind, Rootstack was able to create and develop a web application for Android and iOS capable of covering all the needs presented by the ATP with the intention of promoting local tourism and making this something more accessible for everyone all over the world.

The platform developed by Rootstack includes features such as:

1. An interactive menu, hamburger type.
2. A list of activities, places and events to attend.
3. Relevant information on the best tourist regions of the country.

Client

Autoridad de Turismo de Panamá

Project information

Case highlight

URL