Challenge

Given how sophisticated hotel booking sites have become, it's a surprise there's no equivalent for hotels to use internally. Very few tools exist that manage day-to-day room tariffs. No platform monitored sales, reporting and managed room tariffs all in one place.

Solution

We built a web-based subscription platform which small hotels can use to calculate their daily pricing for each individual property.

Our help

It combined five powerful hotel revenue management modules, allowing users to create, design and calculate hotel rate plans. It also ran comprehensive scenarios – daily. Plus our analytics and sales reporting dashboard were an added bonus.
