In just a few short weeks
Cincinnati Works are already seeing value from Elements

Cincinnati Works

They are non-profit agency that provides FREE, lifetime career coaching and support services, from crafting a resume and applying for a job to networking and budgeting. Their goal is to help their neighbors find dignified, stable work that offers sufficient pay and benefits, so they can provide for themselves and their families.

In just a few short weeks,
our whole org is seeing would recommend this regardless of size.

HEATH PARKS, PROCESS AND SYSTEMS ANALYST

Getting processes out of everyone's head

As a nonprofit, trying to document, create procedures and help the end user in their day to day is a challenge. But in just a few short weeks, our whole org is seeing the value of this app.

Being able to create maps that show step by step for the end user, without making it "look" like a process map. Links to overall procedures and step by steps, breaking up the training in bite size functions, is awesome. It will help us get all of our processes out of everyone's head or notes, etc and get them ordered for everyone.

From the Admin, being able to see details of the org, which objects/fields have descriptions, are they used in flows, apex, page layouts, etc. That in itself is worth the cost for me.

I would recommend this app to any nonprofit, regardless of size.
