Cumulus Vision are making informed decisions for their clients

About Cumulus Vision

Cumulus Vision was founded in 2012 and is based in San Francisco. They're a small group of expert consultants, developers, and business analysts who are passionate about Salesforce and the impact it can have on an organization. Each member of their team is a certified salesforce.com professional with a track record of successful engagements.

"Cumulus Vision exceeded our expectations with the first project, so we have hired them multiple times more and continue to add value to our team month after month." JOHN SLATER Ben and Jerry's

> I used it to analyze an org that had reached their custom limit on opportunities. Super helpful identifying how a field is used so you can make informed decisions about the impact of deleting fields.
