

FLATWORLD SOLUTIONS PROVIDED DATA RESEARCH AND EXTRACTION SERVICES TO TAMPA-BASED LEGAL SEARCH CONSULTANTS

The Client

Our client is a group of legal search consultants based out of Tampa, Florida. They are a reputed firm with 20 years of experience in the legal industry. They have been go-to partner for corporations and law firms to discover the best legal talents.

Client Requirements

The client wanted a data research partner who could search the Internet for legal vacancies. They were particularly interested in searching for jobs in various top client portals. The qualifying jobs with description and information like the duration for which the vacancy remained unfilled had to be imported into a job portal for quick discovery and application.

Client Challenges

Two agents from Flatworld had to undergo 3 hours of specialized training over Skype before the full-fledged service commenced. Additionally, the process had to be highly accurate.

FWS' Solution

The trial run was authorized, and a single resource spent two days scanning 50 portals for potential candidates. The initial success prompted the client to consider outsourcing a full-term contract according to which our single resource had to scan a hundred portals to in just 5 days.

Our Process

Flatworld's highly organized workflow was not just efficient but also productive for the client. The steps we took were as follows -

- + We searched the world wide web by entering a web URL
- + Online job vacancies were thoroughly scanned
- + We logged into the client's portal and populated the portal with relevant jobs
- + We added reliable job descriptions along with the information on how long the job remained vacant in the market
- + The client was provided a seamless solution to verify the status of the application on a day-to-day basis

The Results

The client was happy with the quality of search and systematic shortlisting process that multiplied the response to open vacancies on their portal.
