Challenge

The client's manual record system posed cost and accuracy challenges. They sought to reduce costs, decentralize data, and establish trust, transparency, security, and traceability for end consumers.

How We Helped

- Blockchain facilitated structured, secure record-keeping.
- Transparency in supply chain processes without third-party intermediaries.
- Smart contracts and process modeling for efficient workflow design.
- Integration of reusable assets for contracts, workflows, & user interfaces.
- Expedited deployment, minimizing implementation time & optimizing solution efficiency.
