

The Fleece Inn Hillesley

The Fleece Inn is a traditional country pub which maintains a classic pub atmosphere, making it popular with locals and visitors.

A modern website for a traditional pub

Evergreen challenge:

The Fleece Inn is at the heart of the local community, having been given a new lease of life via community ownership in 2013. Then Chairman of Hillesley Community Pub Ltd, Nigel Vaughan decided the next step in the Fleece Inn's revival was to modernize the ageing website.

Evergreen solution:

Evergreen created a modern, stylish website that was easy to update and compatible with smartphones and tablets. There is a gallery of photos, an automated emailing list, and an events facility.

Long-term customer relationship

Having worked collaboratively on a project for the MoD and having created a website for Nigel's business Sula Systems, Evergreen were Nigel's first port of call – "I already knew that they were a professional, skilled, easy-to-work-with company that delivers value for money."

Nigel said that "Evergreen listened carefully to what we wanted and showed us examples of other marketing websites. Our new pub website is a bright, professional-looking site which is easy to keep up to date."

Reputation is important to Evergreen; we take pride in our work and relish the opportunity to show what we can do. Consequently we have established many long-term relationships with customers – for example, Nigel said, "I would not hesitate to approach Evergreen in the future and in fact have an interest in a company which may well do so."
