Seamless Migration of 5K+ Products & 500+ Customers' Data to Oracle EBS with Data Centralization

Insight

A global manufacturer of ice chests, drink containers, and supporting accessories faced challenges in migrating the acquired entity's data from the SyteLine application to Oracle EBS. It wanted to streamline the data access and centralization process.

Forsys inked partnership with FloData to offer E2E data migration, which helped the client to speed up data assimilation and migrate 55k+ products & 5k+ customers' data.

Business Challenge

The client had a dearth of knowledge & expertise in change management. They needed a technology integration partner that could define, design, and implement a comprehensive change management plan to match and validate the data types, and migrate them as well as the organizational processes without disrupting business continuity.
