WORKING FOR THE FUTURE

REMEX Minerals Singapore Pte. Ltd. Is a materials recycling company. It organises the recycling of minerals by processing mineral waste from construction or waste incineration as well as industrial by-products so that they can be reused as quality assured construction aggregates.

It has been providing a comprehensive portfolio of services and products since the last three decades, all of which are based on their specialist knowledge and high quality standards.

Computerized Management of Mineral Materials Recycling

REMEX Minerals is known as a specialist organization when it comes to recycling mineral waste across the globe. With offices scattered in different continents, it operates from Singapore with an operations plant in Tuas. The company was looking for a comprehensive maintenance management system that can give them extensive control and help in organizing day to day maintenance activities at the plant.

The Solution : Focus Softnet's Computerized Maintenance Management System

Focus Softnet's CMMS - Computerised Maintenance Management System (also referred to as Focus EAM - Enterprise Asset Management) is an integrated solution platform which helps maintenance departments do their job more effectively. For instance, it aids in determining which machines require maintenance and which storerooms contain the spare parts they need. As a data driven solution, it also helps the management make informed decisions like calculating the cost of machine breakdown repair versus preventive maintenance for each machine, leading to better allocation of resources.

Focus Softnet's CMMS also allows record keeping, tracking completed and assigned tasks in a timely and cost-effective manner. It offers multiple core maintenance functionalities for all types of equipment/assets which are subject to repair and need maintenance. It also allows owners to use the CMMS data to verify regulatory compliance.
