

How a leading industrial machinery company leveraged automation across its complete FX workflow

GENERAL

- The company is a leading industrial machinery manufacturer.
- Headquartered in Germany, the company achieved revenues of EUR 100m in 2024.
- With operations in Europe, Americas and Asia, the company manages FX risk centrally.

FX CHALLENGES

- The treasurer has been manually identifying and calculating currency exposures, making the process time-consuming and error-prone.
- While exposures are generated daily, hedges are only executed twice per month, thereby exposing the company to remaining currency risk.
- The listed company needed to implement Hedge Accounting.

KANTOX SOLUTIONS

- The company implemented an automated hedging program based on sales orders for 3 currencies (USD, CNY, JPY).
- Kantox Dynamic Hedging® directs trade execution to the company's chosen liquidity providers through 360T.
- FX management is carried out in accordance with business rules and parameters set by the firm's risk managers.

BENEFITS

- Exposure to FX risk is reduced by EUR 0.4m annually.
- Delayed hedging with conditional orders allows the Group to mitigate the negative impact of unfavourable forward points by EUR 20k annually.
- The solution centralises reporting for the company's accounting department.
