Secure Licensing and Activation Framework

Project Overview

A Scandinavian software company approached Oxagile to revamp their licensing framework.

Oxagile delivered a complete set of development services, from project vision elaboration to licensing module implementation to integration and deployment.

Key features and highlights:

- A universal module for the various desktop-based products of the customer;
- Encrypted interfaces between the desktop activation module and the web-based backend on the customer's side;
- A secure database for storing tokens, licenses, activation and user data;
- A robust backend for processing tokens and generating licenses according to a set of business rules;
- Web-based access for operating personnel (product managers, service operators, marketing and sales managers.)
