Online Clairvoyance and Life Reading Service

java   real-time communication   e-commerce
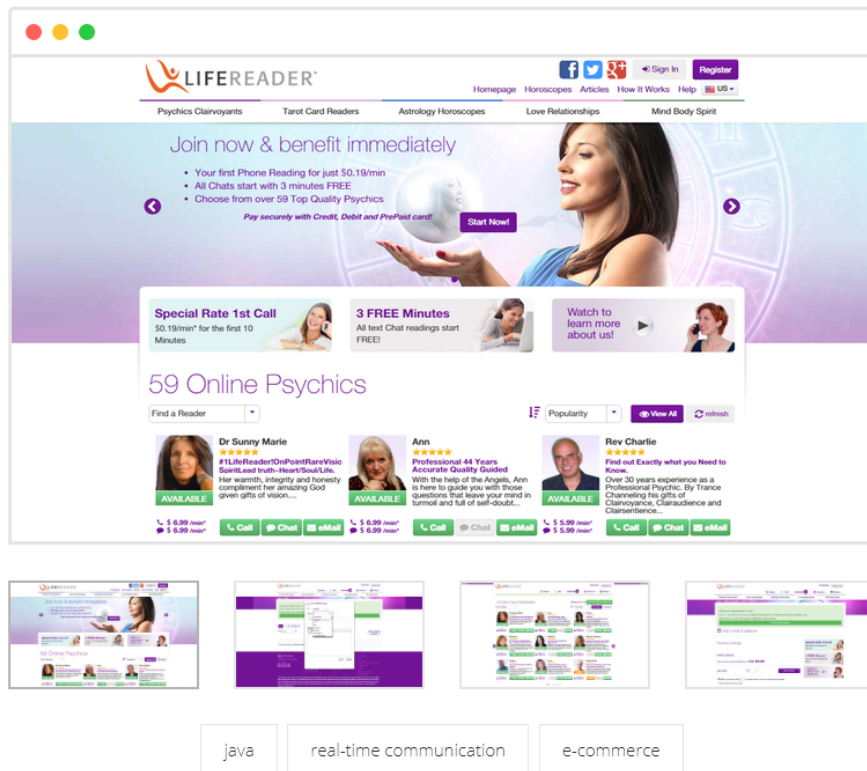

Project Overview

This feature-rich solution provides psychics and their clients with a secure means of communication that may include live text chats, audio calls, or intramail.

Oxagile helped the customer build VoIP technology into the existing application, which called for restructuring of its architecture and complete refactoring of the server-side logic.

The reengineered solution includes a Jabber/XMMP-based chat, rich UI widgets, and third-party payment system integration.

The platform's optimized performance makes it possible to serve a larger number of concurrent users looking for a live online psychic reading.
