

SUCCESS STORY

Transforming K12 Education at J. Sterling Morton HS District 201

The Challenge

J. Sterling Morton High School District 201 needed an engaging online learning platform that could:

- Support credit recovery
- Accommodate diverse student needs
- Provide flexible learning options
- Engage students more effectively than traditional online platforms

Why Subject.com

J. Sterling Morton HS District 201 found that Subject.com exceeded their expectations for online education. According to Dean of Students Sarah Lorraine, "There are a lot of online schooling options, but Subject offers a far more engaging, interactive experience for our students."

SUBJECT.COM SOLUTIONS

- ✓ Credit Recovery
- ✓ Multilingual Support
- ✓ Flexible Learning Options

Interactive elements create "more of that sense that it's live instruction," which significantly benefits students in their learning journey.

Subject.com has proven particularly valuable for multilingual students. "We have some other students that are speaking other languages and so subject offers us the opportunity to support those students in ways that we couldn't before in an online platform." This capability is "bringing access to ELs in a way that we've never seen it especially in alternative education."

Student Impact

Students praise Subject's approach with its engaging videos that create a classroom-like atmosphere. "I really like the videos. They're really engaging and I like the way that they look. They feel like they are inside of a classroom no matter where they are."

Another student rated the platform a perfect 10 adding that, "It pushes me personally, and it also helps me make sure that I'm on time and get everything I need to get done."

Results

Dr. Josh McMahon, Assistant Superintendent, reports "great success with Subject and with our students." Students find the platform helpful because they "can easily make connections" with the material.

traditional classroom setting and have opportunities for physical activity, teamwork, and personal development."

Samantha Skubal, Director of Innovation & Accountability, credits Subject.com's thoughtful design: "It all has a purpose, it all makes sense, and the kids notice that."
