CHALLENGE & SOLUTIONS

Walkerscott, a company specializing in ERP systems and power BI, needed feature-rich components, dashboards, and reporting for their new projects that integrated with their existing framework. However, they kept hitting a wall. That wall's name was the budget. Their existing solutions didn't have all the controls they needed, and the companies that had them all also had a high price tag.

Then Director Jono Walker came across Syncfusion's wide selection of JavaScript controls and their Dashboard and Report Platforms. Seeing the pieces he needed for the project, he was surprised not to find the expected wall in his way this time. Syncfusion's licensing model was direct and affordable.

"Syncfusion has all of the required controls, reporting and dashboarding tools across multiple platforms that allow us to leverage our existing skills with a simple and value-for-money licensing model," said Walker.

Walker was pleased that his team's development time was reduced and pleased with the variety and quality of Syncfusion's controls. For now, he is claiming secrecy for Walkerscott's new projects, as they are still in development. We look forward to the grand reveal!
