Situation:	Needed a non-legacy single system with a user-friendly interface to eliminate unproductive administrative effort.
Critical Issue(s):	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Needed the financial team to be able to focus on the billing cycle without the need to constantly pull reports for project managers • Wanted to reduce duplication of efforts when having to reconcile between two systems • Required a system that would be easy to implement and would be user-friendly to all employees • Needed a software system backed up by a responsive support team • Required visibility to reporting for employees outside of the finance team • Wanted to get rid of complicated Excel spreadsheets and gain real-time insight
Reasons:	Former accounting system was not able to provide the detail needed, and role-based access was required to allow visibility throughout the organization.
Vision:	A solution to integrate information on projects, people, and financials, and to provide visibility and access to multiple roles within the company, alleviating workload and workflow issues for the Controller.
We provided:	Unanet Project Tracking Financials
Results:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Controller is able to focus on transformational aspects of the business instead of pulling reports for project managers • Billing has been reduced by 2 days • Project managers are empowered by visibility into their projects through real-time reporting • Improves workflow and alleviates workload for the financial team • Excel spreadsheets are retired • Able to look at indirect rates and budget into the future • Employees find the system easy-to-use and enter time daily, keeping data accurate, up-to-date and relevant
