Twenty Ten Designers

Twentytendesigners.com is a member only e-commerce website show casing high fashion products at discounted prices.

Given the "limited time only" nature of the offers the site provides the site functionality needed to include both traditional e-commerce shop elements as well as additional features such as shopping basket expiry and timed sales.

Webcurl implemented the store elements of the site using the contributed module, Ubercart. This provided all the required traditional store functionality allowing Webcurl to focus more build effort on the specific requirements that would make the site a success.
