Email Security Software Category

Email security software monitors a company's outbound and inbound email traffic for malicious and unwanted messages. These tools quarantine or block spam, phishing attacks, and malware. Advanced solutions also provide data loss prevention capability as well as email encryption features for outbound email.

Email security software helps to ensure staff compliance and prevent internet threats. The program funnels incoming emails through spam filters and scans messages before transmitting them across a firewall. These tools include user governance or labeling functions to determine malicious actors and stop them from communicating further. Their archiving capabilities enable enterprises to keep a log of past communications for both reference and compliance purposes.

FEATURED TESTIMONIALS

“The City has been looking for a while to strengthen its foundational security. We also wanted something that will take advantage of the embedded move to cloud email systems. We didn't want to go backwards, and take stuff out of the cloud onto on-prem. We needed something that worked really well and thought through as a cloud-first, embedded safeguard. Cloud-based storage, cloud-based email, cloud-based collaboration-it's where we are going.”

MICHAEL MAKSTMAN
CHIEF INFORMATION SECURITY OFFICER, CITY AND COUNTY OF SAN FRANCISCO

“What attracted us to Avanan initially was the ability to add additional layers of security for Office 365 without the need to reroute our email. This was critical for us as the other gateway options introduced additional hops in front of Office 365 and amounted to a total remove-and-replace of Microsoft's security.”

HERSHELL FOSTER
CIO, CAPITAL CARING

“Avanan was so quick to deploy; we just checked the boxes of the security stack we wanted to incorporate, and almost immediately, we observed the phishing attacks and malware it was catching.”

“Regularly, 80 percent of our inbound email was spam. That crept up over time to exceed 90 percent. Email is hugely significant for an organization like The Salvation Army. The effects of spam on our work could be catastrophic as it would bring to a standstill the communication between the headquarters and our 800 centers in the UK. I like the idea of security as a service and allowing somebody else to deal with the problem rather than wasting our time dealing with it ourselves.”

MARTYN CROFT
HEAD OF CORPORATE SYSTEMS, THE SALVATION ARMY

“Mimecast Email Security is a simple, effective solution we can trust and, when we need support, we always get the answers we need quickly. Most importantly, the effect of spam on our users and on my team has been practically eliminated. Our users get a better email service as a result, and my team is able to spend more time on high value activities, rather than fire fighting.”

JAMES BYRNE

“With Mimecast we don't have to manage anti-spam and anti-malware. Having all of our email go through Mimecast allows us to quickly and easily get the information we need - we can tell if the email was sent encrypted, who sent the message, and when and if the message was delivered on our side or their side. This has given us huge benefits that we never had before.”

“It's difficult to prove to a client what may have happened if their email systems weren't protected by MailGuard, because MailGuard obviously stops the threat before they can see or act on it and experience the damage. The best stories we do have of our clients involve us showing clients MailGuard-related reports and seeing their expression when they see what is being blocked. The numbers can be staggering, and their sense of feeling protected is really evident.”

ANGUS MANSFIELD
MANAGING DIRECTOR, XCENTRAL

“Being a high profile entity, we were receiving an inordinate number of junk emails in addition to dealing with virus concerns that were growing daily. Since 2002, MailGuard has effectively resolved both virus and spam issues for the AFL. It only took a few minutes to work out that adopting MailGuard to undertake our content filtering needs was going to actually save us money and time in people and bandwidth usage as well as improving our security.”

TONY ABATE
IT MANAGER, AUSTRALIAN FOOTBALL LEAGUE

“MailGuard's fully managed services deliver peace of mind. We know that that our email environment is as efficient as possible and that our systems are fully protected. Another one of the biggest benefits of using MailGuard is the ease of the service. It is very easy to use, and I enjoy its simplicity.”

DAVID WHITE
DIRECTOR, WHITE IT

“We recently moved to Office365 and found their spam filtering was not good enough. We decided to use MailGuard as an additional layer of security for our emails. MailGuard has solved our spam problem - the product is solid and their support has been exceptional.”
