“Successful marketing works really well against all of our other channels. Comparatively in terms of its cost it’s benchmarked against our media buying teams but that doesn’t even allow for the additional value of those recommendations coming from people that the audiences trust and it’s really hard to put a metric against that. We know that for every £1 spent, influencer marketing outperforms most of our other channels, and we rely on campaign management technology like CreatorIQ to tie everything together.”

MELANIE KENTISH
HEAD OF INFLUENCER ENGAGEMENT, SKY

“CreatorIQ allows us to bring the best of both worlds, agency and software, to our clients. We are still able to act and communicate as agency partners, while at the same time using CreatorIQ to streamline our influencer campaign process: from influencer selection, to creative content approvals and execution, and lastly, reporting.”

KATY COFFIELD
CEO AND CO-FOUNDER, FOODIE TRIBE

“Success must be measured and benchmarked to be meaningful and we use platforms like CreatorIQ together with insights from the influencers as well as our own point of view to build a wider reporting mechanism. We’ve often seen influencer marketing have tangible sales uplift. The channel shouldn’t be treated as just for awareness.”

CHRIS DAVIS

"Best influencer marketing tool to track KPIs and benchmarks. My teams are hyper focused on KPIs and benchmarks. Tagger shows benchmarks for all active platforms for each influencer. It helps us compare our content amongst influencers and allows us to be smarter with benchmarks. I also love how clean the platform is and how easy it is to filter and sort."

JULIA ROSINUS
DIRECTOR, SOCIAL MEDIA, ICF NEXT

"Literally changed our influencer approach for local and helped us differentiate. The best part of Tagger is the automated reporting. No longer are we manually tracking and logging into Instagram on our phones to check things! They made us able to actually source influencers locally and differentiate ourselves in the market with our client offerings."

SHELBY Z CURRIE
PAID SOCIAL STRATEGIST, MOROCH

"I was recently introduced to the Tagger platform and I’m already really impressed. It’s been super easy to prospect and work with influencers on campaigns through Tagger, and also the post-campaign stats are perfect for the in-depth reporting my clients want to see."

"Everything is so simple and works smoothly. First we created a campaign, then searched for potential influencers we would like to collaborate with and then we contacted all the shortlisted influencers with only one click. What would have taken us normally a few full-time weeks took us only a half work day. Given the fact that we are a just recently launched brand with a very limited marketing budget it was great that we managed to find so many influencers that were willing to work on contra product basis."

GEORGIANA GRUDINSCHI
CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER, OWOW

"Not only does my ZINE media kit help me keep track of my growth and engagement but it also showcases my collaborations in an organized manner. I send it to any and all potential sponsors and have recommended it to many other influencers who are just getting started."

EMILY BLANCHARD
