Customer Success Report

Shipping Software Category

Shipping software enables companies to streamline and coordinate their outgoing shipments to consumers. Key functions include comparative pricing on shipments, custom tracking and confirmation alerts, and bulk printing and editing of shipment info. After a shipment, the platform allows you to utilize templates and photographic evidence to manage documentation and order returns. These functionalities can help to improve and automate workflows for future orders.

Shipping software solutions are different from transportation management tools that are designed to optimize transportation routes and loads, or supply chain programs, whose scope includes the whole supply chain procedure. Due to its nature, shipping software often integrates with fleet management applications and e-commerce systems.
