Corporate Learning Management Software Category

A Corporate Learning Management System (LMS) helps a company to organize all its training materials. It can therefore be compared to a corporate intranet. These solutions focus on information storage, distribution, and sharing. For instance, if you make a video course on how to market your firm's products, each video can be made part of a standard learning track. The LMS can guide users throughout the track and help to evaluate their learning.

A Corporate LMS can also offer useful information such as calling scripts, customer success playbooks, product details, and more. In short, the platform provides a centralized location to store info and helps the enterprise focus on learning and development.

ABOUT BRIDGE

Bridge is an innovative, outcome-focused learning and performance management suite that empowers businesses to develop their workforce, ensure better employee experience, and increase employee retention through performance and learning management software. That way, businesses take care of their most valuable asset — their people.

Featured Testimonials

“We were coming up on a core banking system conversion and we needed a new LMS that was actually going to function for our end users. Instead of a system designed for just compliance training, written by lawyers on a platform that's not built for the end user. Plus it needed to give us all the capabilities that we needed: ease of use, easy implementation, robustness of functionality. We got exactly what we needed, plus more, with Bridge.”

CHRIS OLSEN
VP, MANAGER OF ORGANIZATIONAL DEVELOPMENT, CHEMICAL BANK

“I'm creating a lot of efficiencies and documentation, which will make it easier to track progress. Bridge allows a method of tracking both good and bad behavior by keeping our teams honest to projects, content consumption, and deadlines. For example, having the performance review element in one-on-one agendas enables alignment on teams by providing guardrails for projects, personal goals, and progression through the year. Each time managers and their teams meet, they can use Bridge as the tool that helps keep them on track.”

CARRIE BERG
DIRECTOR OF LEARNING AND DEVELOPMENT, LIVONGO

“We also wanted to be able to support our subject matter experts to deliver key modules of learning without having to facilitate long trips all around the state. This allows us to scale and extend foundational programs that are required for all employees. For example, our Procurement program is one that is required across the department but also requires our Procurement team to travel on one to two days trips across the state to deliver the training. With Bridge Learn, they can share their knowledge and we can extend those programs through multiple options and it frees up the experts' time to dedicate to additional initiatives.”

LEANNE HEXT
MANAGER OF TALENT AND DEVELOPMENT, DEPARTMENT FOR ENVIRONMENT AND WATER

“Although as an industry we aren't always at the forefront of learning technology, Cashman Equipment is thoroughly invested in creating the right solution for our employees. We want to ensure that the right notifications are enabled and reminding people about critical classes so they take those classes and keep their certifications current. Where previously learners didn't receive reminders, the ability for that component to be automated with little to no administration from our end saves a tremendous amount of time.”

“We’re a really lean team so we need to rely on technology to do the heavy lifting of bringing our users into the platform, and having them interact with the content. Northpass has the capability of making that process automated. Now that we don’t have to worry about the delivery mechanism, we’re able to focus on creating great content.”

AISLINN MALSZEKI
MANAGER, ONLINE LEARNING STRATEGY, MARS DISCOVERY DISTRICT

“The ability to build a learning management for both internal employees and external clients is harder to find than I would have thought. Because Northpass is focused solely on the ability to build on-demand training, it’s simplicity allows you to use those courses in whatever way you want/need.”

KEVIN ANDREWS
CLIENT ENABLEMENT MANAGER, BOMBBOMB

“We chose Northpass because of the sleek and modern interface, which promised our end-learners an easy and engaging learning experience. Before Northpass, we either had to do one-on-one trainings with new employees and partners or send them hastily compiled resources. Northpass allowed us to put together a robust product-learning curriculum in less than a day and saved us from doing redundant work because we could easily integrate pre-existing collateral. Using Northpass, we reduced the on-boarding time for both new employees and partner organizations, while ensuring that they are well trained on our product.”

“We needed an LMS to train digital marketers around the world. The tracking and reporting was important as well as it working in all countries. Which iSpring does! It was also the best value amongst several LMSs we reviewed. If you want to begin working right away and avoid a long implementation, iSpring is great! Their support has been responsive and wonderful to work with.”

“It's very easy and user-friendly to manage the users. You can easily add new users (for instance you can add them by email or import them from a file), arrange the users into groups and organizations and set permissions. With iSpring Learn you can track the results of the users, the effectiveness of the e-courses, etc. You get detailed statistics in advanced reports. iSpring Learn provides 4 types of reports (quiz, content, people and e-commerce). The reports can be printed, emailed or exported.”

SANDRINE BOARQUEIRO-VERDUN
FOUNDER & PRESIDENT, KAPITEC SOFTWARE

“iSpring has a simple, easy-to-use product for creating SCORM files, HTML presentations, and Flash videos, but that's not the main reason I am happy I went with them. Their customer and technical support is phenomenal! They have answered all of my questions in a timely manner on the phone or through email with careful instructions, images, and kind words. Unfortunately, you can't expect that (and won't get that) from many companies. If it's a question about SCORM or my LMS provider, they are still happy to work with me to find the answer. It's never "not our problem." You will always have questions, even with simple and easy-to-use products. So choose your content creator for their customer support, not on product or price alone.”

“It has been easy to use and fits our need to compartmentalize our users quickly. We have not even begun to use half of the features that are available just because the basics are so powerful. The reports can be quickly customized down to a specific user or course and all the way back up to total system logins and course completions.”
