Since we added Fitbit, we have seen a 58% increase in participation compared to our previous walking challenge. Our employees love the program and their Fitbit devices.”

“With a workforce that is primarily made up of millennials, we've learned how to be creative when it comes to engaging our staff during activity challenges. Over the last year, we have seen our medical claims decrease by double digits. Our increased focus on activity tracking using Fitbit devices has had an immense impact on that number. We've witnessed first-hand how using Fitbit activity trackers can change lives at any stage. I'm looking forward to seeing how much improvement we make in year two!”
