

Social Intranet Software Category

Social Intranet Software Category

Social intranet software is an easy-to-use application that includes social technology, multimedia creation and collaboration capabilities, robust search, and more. You can utilize it to create a communication hub that can be effortlessly accessed to get tasks done. Conventional legacy intranets do not have social features such as profiles, comments, and the ability to share digital content.

A social intranet facilitates two-way communication. You can use it to publish company news and announcements, and users can share their opinions and comments on them. This improves user engagement and encourages them to contribute to the enterprise. In addition, employees can directly communicate with one another. This opens avenues for general collaboration, knowledge sharing, and project management. Users can also post and share their personal content on the system.

AMY SMITH
MARKETING AND COMMUNICATIONS DIRECTOR, ED BROKING

“One of the things that works best for us is that staff feel like it's 'their' intranet. It's constantly evolving; a lot of the content is generated by the individual departments. We have a small internal communications team so the ability to provide various levels of editorial control is key.”

BLUEFIN

“New joiners can quickly see what our company culture is all about and how they fit into the structure, which is such an asset and helps get people initiated into the Pinnacle way and excited about our work. Pancentric supported us fully through the launch and have been on hand to explain new updates and features. Plus, we're actually saving money compared to our last intranet system.”

PINNACLE GROUP

“We use the Hub every day to share content with our partners. It's very customer friendly, easy to determine security settings and gives us great download and usage data. The Hub not only makes it easier to share assets with our partners, but it also helps us keep them accountable to using those assets, which was one of our biggest challenges in the past. The interaction between the Hub and Enabler has also been a great benefit to us and allows us to track further performance metrics.”

ROB FARACE
NATIONAL RESOURCING MANAGER, NHS LEADERSHIP ACADEMY

“Twine was very easy to set up and looks / works like a modern web platform. Other tools we'd explored looked dated in comparison, and either weren't as customisable, or needed a lot more effort to set up and get running.”

SAENTYS

“We needed a portal that could get students from all over the world meeting each other and collaborating on ideas with people that they've never met before. They took to Twine – it was amazing to see them connect so quickly.”
