This means you're forced to offer limited options to your employees as well. “Stratur and Sign In Workspace has helped us to configure the system so that it's much more efficient and user friendly. Outside of every meeting room, we've added a booking screen, that clearly shows if the room is available or not. If the room is available, you can make a spontaneous booking directly on the screen. If you already have a booking, you are prompted to check in within 15 minutes from the start of your meeting. If no one checks in, the room turns available for others to book. These two features have really made a difference for us!”

OSCAR HERMELIN
APPLICATION MANAGER, HSB STOCKHOLM

“[Sign In Workspace] consolidates all activities concerning meetings and visitors in one - very user friendly - solution. The integration with Microsoft Outlook significantly improves the use of available resources. [Sign In Workspace] has systematised the synchronisation between the various stakeholders, thereby eliminating the need for superfluous internal coordination. Visitor registration, whether it be with or without self-service, provides our visitors with a good, professional impression.”

KASPER FLINDT
BT BUSINESS PARTNER, PFIZER

“We have around 150 meetings a day, of which about 30% are spontaneous and the remaining meetings are pre-booked. Because all our rooms are now back online we no longer have much contention. No-shows are down to less than 5% of all bookings.”

LEIGH BERRELL
CIO & GM OF BUSINESS TECHNOLOGY SERVICE, YARRA VALLEY WATER

“Sign In Solutions puts everything in one place. With workflows, we finally have our time back. We can see how many tasks are waiting, make sure appropriate tasks are delegated, and everything is automatically updated. It makes work so much simpler for all of us.”

“EPSO-G's strategy is to buy solution as a service. Therefore, we have to deal with a large number of different suppliers. TableAir immediately appointed a responsible representative who solved all our needs competently and quickly - connecting the system to Azure Active Directory, uploading the floor plan, preparing instructions, and performing other tasks. We basically did everything in 1-2 days. The service was straightforward, and the application itself was easy to use.”

NERIJUS ADOMAITIS
IT PROJECT MANAGER, EPSO-G

“We recommend using TableAir to get your employees moving and bring about behavioral change. This only works if you use the product as a tool for the employee. Of course, you can also use it as an asset management tool, but this way, the end-user can become secondary. The system works best in combination with Office365 as appointments can be merged with meeting locations, making it more efficient.”

HANS SCHEKERMANS
PROJECT DIRECTOR, GEMEENTE AMSTELVEEN

“TableAir has enhanced our existing flexible working processes with staff able to reserve a desk in any office globally or, in fact, book a desk in a Remote Office when they intend to work from home. This gives the whole team visibility of where others are at any given time when they need them and allows us to assess how the flexible working scheme is being utilized by staff.”

RICHARD ANDREWS
HEAD OF IT, CHAPMANBDSP

“At Girtaka, I'm empowered with flexibility. The office design and solutions let me choose where I work best, whether I need quiet focus or collaborative spaces. It's not just about having a desk; it's about having the right space for every task.”

“The YAROOMS team was extremely accommodating with all our customizations and continues to be very attentive to our change requests. Other solutions we evaluated were nowhere near as flexible with customizations. When we had a request or an idea that would be unique to our company, YAROOMS would listen to our needs, adjust on the fly, and make it work for us. Even though YAROOMS’ primary support is out of country, they adjusted their calendars to attend every meeting with us. Being out of country had zero impact on delivering their solution on time.”
