We did get samples from other companies and Dentimax sensors can't be compared to other companies. Dentimax sensors are much smaller and thinner and are very durable and easy to use. The patient's don't complain that the sensors are bulky and hurting their mouth. The customer service at Dentimax has always been helpful and always returns our phone calls. ■■■ I have been using MOGO in my periodontal practice for almost 20 years. From my teaching responsibilities at UMKC School of Dentistry, I've become very familiar with most of the other major practice management software programs and I have never been tempted to switch. MOGO combines an excellent product with unmatched technical and sales support, reasonable pricing, a synergistic relationship with their client-doctors, and it remains the most intuitively easy to operate software on the market. I recommend it highly to everyone, especially my students. If you want to optimize the management of your dental practice, you won't be disappointed with MOGO. ■■■

■■■ The MOGO eStatement feature is one of the best tools available. The setup to use this feature was stream-lined and fairly painless, but the end result was to immediately realize benefits of reduced overhead. Instead of paying full price for mailing, I now pay a reduced postage fee. All aspects of handling statement paper and envelopes (ordering, stocking and cost) vanished. Our staff can now focus on systems and ideas that can improve our productivity and customer service. Our average cost of producing a statement dropped from $1.76 to .66 each. It's fast, accurate and easy. Thanks MOGO! ■■■
